THE COURTS.

Woman's Presence of Mind and a Boy's Sagacity.

DAMPER TO DISMISSED OFFICIALS.

Decision by Chief Justice Waite in a Collision Suit.

The Court of General Sessions, Judge Sutherland presiding, was mainly occupied yesterday in the trial of lahmael E. Clare, a negro charged with burglary in the first degree. The details were listened to with great attention by an interested throng. The com-plainant was Mrs. Sarah Lewis, the proprietress of a boarding house at Nos. 31 and 33 West Thirtieth street. It appeared that Clare had been a waiter in her employ, but becoming rather friendly with a domestic named Lizzie McCoy both were discharged on the 21st of March last. Mrs. Lewis and her house-keeper, Mrs. Beddett, two nights later, on retiring to their room, were startled by the house caused by the affrighted fluttering of a South American bird which was caged in the room. Mrs. Beddett at once arose and lighted the gas to ascertain the lady closed it, and observing nothing unusual rethe lady closed it, and observing nothing unusual relurned to bed. Not long after the two ladies heard a canary in the room nuttoring violently, and again Mrs. Beddett gross to learn the cause of the disturbance. Just as she was stepping out of the bed her loot alighted on a man's coat tail, the owner of which was concended under the bed. Mrs. Beddett, with commendable presence of mind not to raise the aiarm too suddenly, prudently motioned to Mrs. Lewis to preserve her composure. The man with the coat tails suspecting, however, that he had been discovered, apraig from under the bed, then through the door and fled, not, however, before the ladies had fully identified the dark invader as the discharged waiter, Clare. After his escape a search was instituted, and it was found that jewelry valued at $70 had been carried away. For two months all traces of the thiof were lost, until May 25, when Mr. P. C. Munroe, as on of Mrs. Lewis, met him in the street and invited him to go to his mother's house. The delighted Clare agreed to this, but as they were passing the Twonty-ninh precinct station Mr. Muuroe caused the arrest of the unincky lightive. It was shown on the trial yesterday that Clare had been canployed by serveral highly respectable lamilies, who gave him a good character and apparently took a good deal of interest in him. He was defended by ex-Judge Jones, Assistant District Attorney Bell appearing for the prosecution. Lizzie McCoy, true to her old love, appeared as a witners in his behalf and swore that she had instended to a conversation in which she heard Mrs. Beddets threaten to "get square" with Clare. The accused positively denied the theft and triou to prove that he was in Philadelphia on the night the burglary was said to have occurred. The jury found the prisoner guity and Junge Sutherland sentenced him to ten years in the State Prison.

DECISION BY JUDGE WAITE. Chief Justice Waite, sitting in the United States Circuit Court, yesterday handed down a decision in the case of Charles Deems et al, appellees, against The Albany and Canal Towing Company, appellants. From the recitation of facts it appears than the appellants contracted in the usual course of business to tow the canalocat C. M. Deems from Albany to New York. While rounding the Battery with the tow a collision occurred which occasioned the loss of the Deems. The Judge says that, while the policy of the law is not to impose on towing boats the responsibility of common carriers, the captains are expected to exercise due diligence. He is of opinion that the present case is covered by the Syracuse case, reported in 12th Walt, 167, and be thinks that the Captain of the Onio, the toat which did the towing, did not exercise preliminary caution and foresignt, and that the libel holds.

DISMISSED OFFICIALS.

The Supreme Court, General Term, Judges recently referred to Judge Van Brunt various writs of certicrari obtained by different officials dismissed by the Police Board and Commissioners of Charities. He yesterday gave his decision dismissing all the write. In the case of ex-Warden Liscomb, of the Peniten-tiary, who was discharged in January, 1875, but who tiary, who was discharged in January, 1876, but who applied for the writ of certiorar in March last, he had that the application came altogether too late. The application of ex-Sergeant Larkin, he held, was not based on tenable grounds. As to Peter Bronson, former phonographer of the Police Board, and Adolph Waldman, a discharged cierk, who claimed that they were disminsed without cause, Juge Van Brunt decided that the Board had a right to dismiss them at pleasure, and that the same rule does not apply to them as to policemen. No decision has yet been given in the cases of ex-Captains Foley and Seibert.

JEFFERSON MARKET DOORS.

In the Superior Court, before Juage Speir, yesterday there was tried a suit brought by Ellen Oliver against John H. Bandau and Solomon Sayles, to recover $10,000 damages for injuries received through the algence of the defendants. It would the windows or doors at Jefferson Market, which were detached during the day and set piled up on the Sixth avenue side, made the sidewalk on that side of the street somewhat dangerous on windy days. On the 25th of August last, the plaintiff, white walking along Sixth avenue, was struck by these windows, which had fallen from their position, an severely wounded. She says some of her ribs were broken and her nervous system so greatly shocked that she has ever since been sick and helpless. She charges that the defendants, who occupy meat stands in the market, are responsible for the accident which occurred in front of their stand. The defendants in their answers separately deny their responsibility for the accident. At the conclusion of the trial yesterday the jury brought in a verdict for $1,100 for the plaintiff. Mossies, Joseph H. Choate and Frederick E. Cleveland appeared for the plaintiff, and Messra. Fellows, Aitken and Conneily for the defendants. the windows or doors at Jefferson Market, which were

In a suit brought by William E. Brockway against Peter Holbrook the latter was ordered to appear and judged guilty of contempt. He at once made applica-tion to Judge Van Hoesen, in the Court of Common davit upon a motion to that effect he says that the facts as disclosed by a previous examination held on facts as disclosed by a previous examination held on the 18th inst., a report of which has not been flod by the referee, set forth that he is a member of the Police Department, doing duty as a parrolman in the Eleventh ward at a salary of $100 per month, and that the same is liable to a deduction of acout $15 or $20. He says his entire salary is necessary for the support of himself and wife, but more especially for himself, as with it he procures the necessaries of life and thereby is enabled to properly discharge his duty as a public officer, and if deprived of this monthly stipend the citizons of New York will aim be deprived of his services. He says further that he has no other property whatever, and he asks that a balance of $50 salary now due him in the hands of the Commissioners of Police, payment of which is refused him under an order of the Court, be nanced to him, and also that he be relieved from the contempt, of which he is not intentionally guilty, Judge Van Hoesen yesterday granted the order asked for.

In the suit of James E. Lyon against Francis H. an order compelling the plaintiff to flie $10,000 security for costs. The suit was begon on the 4th of June last, but the complaint was not served until November following, and the defendant has not yet put in an answer. The complaint is based on allegations of fraud, deceit and conspiracy, by means of which plaintiff was induced to enter into a contract for the sale of Emma Mine Company (limited) steck, and some $300,000 damages is asked. The detendants say their answer will contain a full and complete denial of all fraud, and they also assert that a great part of the testimony will nave to be taken by commission in London, Nevada and elsewhere, thus involving great expense. The plaintiff is a non-resident, living in wisconsin, and on this groups the order in question is asked.

During the Franco-German war and in a very critical period of that year of battles lika Newetty, a well educated and accomplished young Paristan circumstances came to America to seek her fortune by whatever means her wit and education could furnish. Having landed in this city she at once began search for employment. Being an excellent linguist the first plan that suggested used was to open a private school. Accordingly, in May, 1876, she rented No. 54 Cinton place, belonging to Joseph and Henry Nailor, for one year, for $1,000. In June following, as she says, Joseph Nailor came to her and told her that he desired to make certain necessary alterations in the house, and agreed not to charge her rent during the tims the work was being done. This being satisfactory the house was soon occupied by journeyment painters and other workmen. She superintended the work, for which, as she says, Mr. Nailor agreed to reimburse her, and on various occasions, when they came to the house to ascertain what was being done, expressed their admiration of her taste in the conduct of the improvements. The house was thus topsy turvy for ten weeks, and she lost a whole sam by the operation. She was compelled to bring anit against the Nailors, claiming $6,500 damages, and the case was brought yesterday before Judge J. F. Buly in the Court of Common Pieas. She claimed this amount for loss of pupils, for her sorvices it superintending the alterations, and because in December has the delendants ejected her for non-payment of rent. Gn the trial the Nailors desiled making any such agreement as stated, and several workmen also testified that the plaintiff delayed them-in their work. The jury brought in a verdet tor $600 for plaintiff. Mr. W. H. Van Cott appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. George W. McAdam for the defendants.
